DRY GOODS.

Trade is active under a steadily continuous demand, and prices are regular. Jobbers are pursuing a safe and prudent course, avoiding large stocks, but constantly replenishing as sales reduce them. The current business, of demand and supply, is steady; stocks are kept down and kept up; the supply is barely equal to the demand. Heavy brown cottons are firmer, though not more active; the raw material has advanced. Bleached shirtings and sheetings are low; stock, the demand is large, and the buoyant. All drills are brisk of sale. Canton Flannels are dull, with an increasing stock, and prices heavy. Stripes are quiet. Denims only moderately active. Ginghams are quite active and firm. Delaines have advanced under very large demand for consumption. Coburgs still command attention, and are very brisk of sale. Desirable styles of shawls are very firm, but inferior goods are dull and heavy. Broadcloths are dull; only heavy fancy cassimeres of good style, are active and firm; other kinds are lower in price. Plaines are moderately active and steady. Imported fabrics are very active; all desirable goods pass freely into general consumption, and the public taste secures a ready sale for them. Fine bombazines, fancy plaids and black and colored delaines are much sought for at good prices, as well as all prime silks. Fine merinos are waning a little in the demand, and a slight decline is observable in price. Alpacas also are less active. British prints are steadily active. The auction sales still attract general attention, and prices of all desirable goods offered are well maintained amid an active competition among buyers. French dress-prints, merinos and delaines thus sold well; black bombazines, canton cloths, beavers, doeskins, castors and coatings were much competed for, and Saxony wove dress goods were in lively demand.—N. Y. Independent, 4th.

The Body of Wilkes Booth.

A few days before the body of Wilkes Booth so mysteriously disappeared, our informant, a resident of New York, and favorably known as a dramatic writer, was called upon, at bank hours, to cash a draft of an undertaker, a near neighbor, who stated that he had received an order from the Booth family to repair to Washington with a coffin, and there to receive the body of John Wilkes Booth, which would be surrendered to him on the order, and convey it North for burial. The undertaker said he would return and pass through New York on route with the body on Thursday evening, and on Friday morning of the same week. The morning after the undertaker left Washington, the report came by telegraph that the body had mysteriously disappeared—that it had been secretly buried—one report said in an old well, another in the Penitentiary yard, and still another that it had been taken out to sea and sunk. The undertaker did not return to his family until some days had elapsed. He came from the North, but declined to give any information relative to the place where John Wilkes Booth, under another name, had been buried. Should it get out, he said, the grave would be violated and the body removed, and the family were naturally anxious that this should not be.

These facts coming to us from a source they did, are more than sufficient to convince us not only of the death of John Wilkes Booth, but that his body with a pledge of secrecy freely given and fully kept, was given over to the family for burial, and that, except the relatives of Booth and the undertaker, no one living knows where the dastardly remains of John Wilkes Booth are interred. No slab marks the last resting place of the assassin. The man who dug the grave knew not for whom it was intended, and in the burial case was inserted a false name. In this unknown grave the assassin will lie, and the grave gives up its sheeted dead, when all are called to judgment.—Cincinnati Union.

IF.—A Highlander, under the influence of whiskey, on a very hot day went to be married by the Rev. Mr. Grant, of Abernethey. The ceremony having commenced, the bridegroom was asked, "Are you willing to take this woman to be your wedded wife?" "Yes," he replied, wiping a large drop of perspiration from his face, "but I've got a drink."

THE mayor of a town in the north of England, questioning the boys of the ragged schools, asked them what were the pomps and vanities of this wicked world. A little boy said: "The theatre and corporation going to church."

After the 1st of November the tariff on all cable messages will be reduced fifty per cent.

The Herald's Paris correspondent says that the Empress Carlotta is insane. She is at Miramir. During her frequent interviews with the Pope she gave evidence of excited mysticism and feverish piety. Her failure with Napoleon and the pending downfall of her throne in Mexico, added to the reverses of her family in Europe, the humiliation of Austria, and the death of her father Leopold, so preyed upon her mind, that, fleeing to Rome, she threw herself at the feet of Pius IX., implored his protection and absolutely refused to quit the Vatican. The holy father treated her with much kindness and invited foreign ladies of distinction to remain with her in the palace, where she remained over night, contrary to all rule and precedent.

A letter from Rome in the Gazette DuMidi gives further details of this sad affair. In the first interview with the sovereign pontiff the Princess discussed with much earnestness the question of the condition of Mexico, and insisted with much pertinacity on obtaining concessions which were deemed inadmissible. The letter says: All that was irregular and eccentric in her conduct towards the holy father must be attributed to nervous excitement, from which she has suffered so long, and which frequently disturbs her reason. She went at last one morning at nine o'clock to the Pope, without any previous announcement, and declared to him that she was the object of atrocious persecution; that there were designs on her life; that attempts had been made to poison her at the Hotel de Rome; that she did not believe herself safe, and could not dine there. The holy father received her with paternal kindness, tranquilized and reassured her, and ordered dinner served for her in the library, where she passed the rest of the day. An endeavor was made to get her to return to her hotel, but she refused, constantly repeating that she was followed by assassins and that she believed herself safe nowhere except in the Vatican. Her mind again wandered, and she even objected to swallow a glass of water, fearing danger. The Pope then ordered an apartment prepared for her in his palace, where she passed the night and following day. She was subsequently conducted to Miramir, and her medical attendants hope that care will restore her reason.

Francis Pardo, residing on Minna street, between Fourth and Fifth, was found lying in an insensible condition on the railroad track on Turk street, near Franklin, day before yesterday, and taken to the Central Railroad Car Depot, on Taylor street, where he died soon after. The following document, intended probably for a will, was found in his pocket:

Columbus District, Dec. 24, 1864.

This is to let know the State of California that I leave all my property to my wife Anne Pardo, and I am the deceased.

(Signed) FRANCIS PARDO.

Coroner's Inquest over the Body of Dr. J. K. Robinson.

Mr. Reeves sworn:—I keep a store on the corner of Main and Emigration street, on the opposite corner from where Dr. Robinson was killed. At 9 o'clock went to bed on my counter, but did not go to sleep, being tired and nervous. A short time after the people from the theatre went past, two or three men came up to my door. One said, in an undertone, "is all still?" Another replied, "yes, I believe so." I was only five or six feet from the door. A few minutes after, I heard a peculiar cry and a pistol shot. I told the man who was sleeping with me that some one was shot. I went to the door, and two men ran south—one of them went past the door—and three of them went east. I was within fifteen feet of the man who run past my door, but only saw his back, and could not recognize him again. He was dressed in dark clothes. Saw only five men. I went to the back door to see those men who ran east. Saw Messrs. King and Weimer come out. I then dressed and went over to the body and recogognized it as Dr. Robinson. There was no one there but Messrs. King and Byers, who went with me. Mr. Daft came up while I was there, and soon after, Mr. Weimer and police, and we moved the Doctor to Independence Hall.

Mr. Byers sworn: Was sleeping in the room with Mr. Reeves. Testimony about the same as that of Mr. R.

Mr. Clark sworn:—Testimony of a very unimportant character.

Capt. J. H. Matthewson sworn:—Was on the street most of the time before 12 o'clock on Monday night. About 12 o'clock went from the Salt Lake House to the San Francisco Restaurant. At Dr. Clinton's Drug Store passed a tall man, in light clothes, who called me by name. Did not know the man. Near Jennings' house met policeman Heath, going up Main street.

B. Metcalf sworn:—I live in this city; am a discharged soldier. Was in this city last Monday night. Attended the circus, and when that was out went to the Antilope Restaurant with Mr. Reed to get some supper. This was about 11 o'clock. After leaving the Restaurant, started for Emigration Square, and soon after leaving Mr. Reed at his house heard a pistol shot. As I passed down saw two men on Reeves' corner and three men on the corner below, near Mr. King's house, two of them had on soldiers coats. They covered up their faces as I passed. A few minutes after passing saw a man run across the street and heard a heavy blow and clash of pistols or something of that kind. Then I heard a scream and a shot, and three men ran past me down Main Street. One of them turned west at Mr. Walker's house, and the other two kept on down the street. Also saw two men run east towards the Mansion House. There might have been three men who ran east. Two of the men on the corner were quite small. After hearing the shot went back to the corner and found Dr. Robinson lying there, but could not move him, so I went for help, and when I came back saw a party taking him into Independence Hall, when I went home and went to bed.

Mr. Reed sworn:—Live on the north side of Emigration Street, opposite the house of Mr. King, a few doors from Main Street. Went to the circus and the Antelope Restaurant last Monday night with Mr. Metcalf. We left the Antelope Restaurant at a quarter to 12, and I went directly home; just as I went in the door of my house heard a cry and after I got in heard a pistol shot. Went back to the door and saw two men running east on the opposite side. Did not think it was anything serious and went back into the house. Have a faint recollection of seeing some men on Reeves' corner, but did not pay particular attention so I could not say positively.

After the examination of this witness the Inquest adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

The Daily Union Vedette

Local and Miscellaneous.

ADVERTISERS.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in every mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, (which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most advantageous medium for advertising in these four Territories.

REV. FATHER KELLY will officiate in Independence Hall at 10½ A. M., and at Camp Douglas at 4 P. M., to-morrow.

For all kinds of Job Work, Cards, Posters, Letter Heads, Mining Certificates and so forth, send your orders to the VEDETTE Printing Office.

THE clerk of the weather, like some others, is on the stool of repentance for his recent misdemeanors, and the fruits are sunshine and fine weather for a day or two past.

THE WEEKLY may be had, in wrappers ready for mailing, by applying at our office before ten this morning. It has the whole news of the past six days, including the particulars of that outrageous assassination.

Colonel Centre Stephens is making preparations to go to New Orleans. This looks as if there was something in the story about the Texas alliance with Santa Anna.

Frank Leslie, the well-known publisher, has been appointed one of the commissioners to the great Exhibition in Paris. Mr. Leslie will have a new field for enterprise, and will doubtless improve it to the utmost.

STRANGERS IN TOWN.—Among the late arrivals, by stage from Idaho, is Col. Preston, a notable lawyer of the northwest. And from Colorado, we greet the genial faces of Belas Hall, Esq., and Prof. W. J. Howard. Col. Mary Ohle, member elect of the Idaho Legislature, also is in town.

LADIES AND GENTS, ATTENTION!—As per new announcement in another column, Mess. Cohn & Co., of the "California Store," opposite the Salt Lake House, have just opened a choice assortment of new goods, fresh from the emporiums of fashion, which they want to sell at moderate profits to the public of town and country.

It was reported yesterday, says the Washington Chronicle of the 4th, that, as had been expected, the Attorney General would render a decision favorable to the claim agents, in the question referred to him as to the right of officers of the Government charged with the settlement of bounty claims, to disregard powers of attorney given by claimants in favor of agents. The decision will probably be made public this week.

The following appointment was made on the 4th: Albert G. Lawrence, of Rhode Island, United States Minister resident at Costa Rica.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

GREAT SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 26th, 1866.

Fred. Auerbach, N. G., and Brethren of Lodge No. 1, I. O. O. F.:—Your Committee, appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of this Lodge on the death of our late Brother, J. King Robinson, beg leave to report the following, and recommend their adoption:

Whereas, In the dispensation of Divine Providence, this Lodge has been called upon to mourn the untimely loss, by a foul, cruel and cowardly murder, of one of its efficient and useful members, the late J. King Robinson, who departed his life within a few hours after the assassin or assassins struck the fatal blows; therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is with a deep and painful regret that we record the untimely death of our late Brother, and deeply mourn the loss of a good and faithful Odd Fellow, a noble man and a peaceable citizen.

Resolved, That while, from an intimacy with our late Brother, we can attest his many social qualities, his loss will be felt not only by the Brotherhood, but by the community of which he was rightly one of the most exemplary and honored members.

Resolved, That to the bereaved widow and friends our most heartfelt sympathy be extended, coupled with the prayer, that He who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb may extend His protection to them and give them support during this great trial of sorrow and affliction.

Resolved, That while we pledge before our sacred altar to use all and every honorable effort to ferret out this most foul and inhuman murder and bring the parties to justice, we will not forget the high duties we owe as members of this honorable order, by committing any overt act or be guided by prejudice actuated by passion, but as in duty bound cheerfully submit to the powers and majesty of the law, ever yielding strict obedience as in duty bound of all good citizens, but more especially of Odd Fellows.

Resolved, That, to give expression to our deep sorrow at the untimely death of our late Brother, and to mark our sense of his exalted worth, these resolutions, enclosed in black paper, be spread on the Journal of this Lodge, and also, copies forwarded for publication to the UNION VEDETTE, News Age, in San Francisco, and the various Odd Fellow journals, and the Secretary be requested to send a copy of the same to the bereaved widow of the deceased Brother.

Resolved, That the members of this Lodge wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days, as a further token of their appreciation of his worth.

Respectfully submitted in F. L. & T.,
JAMES M. ELLIS, D. D. G. S.,
WILLARD KITTREDGE, P. G. } Committee.
